The numbers in the sizing chart take one layer of insulation into consideration; if you fall in the upper range of a size, it is recommended that you choose the next size up. You can put on the maximum number of layers you plan to wear for the coldest, foulest conditions you ever plan to be in and adjust to the chart accordingly. Take measurements with insulation on. The sleeve is measured with the elbow bent, thumb 6" from chin, and measured from the center point of the back of the neck around the elbow to the wrist bone. The inseam is from crotch to ankle bone. The chest is around the fullest part of your chest. The waist is where you normally wear your pants.

A NOTE ON DRY SUIT SIZING

A common mistake with dry suits is making a judgment about the size by looking at the garment while still on the hanger. A suit on the rack always looks bigger than when it is on you. If you fall on the high end of the size scale, move up to the next size and consider shortening sleeves and legs (dry suits only).

SPECIAL SIZING

Kokatat will increase or decrease the length of the arms, legs, torso (above the waist) or rise (waist to crotch) on most of our dry suit models for a nominal charge. The adjustments we can make are limited in scope and depend on the model and size of the garment; please contact Kokatat or your paddle sports dealer for more information. Since everybody likes a different kind of fit, we cannot build or alter a suit to a list of body measurements. If you believe some customization will be necessary, consult with Kokatat or your dealer. We will even send a sizing suit to the dealer for you to try.

You can then determine how much to add or take off. Please exercise caution: when you get a custom dry suit, it's yours. No returns will be accepted (other than warranty)!

WOMEN'S SIZING

Kokatat is a pioneer in women's paddling garments, and we continue to add to the most comprehensive line of women's paddling garments each year. Our women's garments are patterned and sized with women in mind; you won't get a men's small size when you order a women's medium!

Our women's garments have shorter sleeve, torso and inseam length to help minimize bulk so you don't end up with excess fabric around the cuff or waist. Fuller cut in hips and longer rise better accommodate a woman's shape. A thigh gusset provides a non-binding fit in the upper thigh when sitting in a boat. The sleeve, torso, inseam and rise lengths, and shoulder, hip and thigh measurements are all designed specifically to fit a woman's body.

The numbers in the sizing chart take one layer of insulation into consideration; if you fall in the upper range of a size, it is recommended that you choose the next size up. You can put on the maximum number of layers you plan to wear for the coldest, foulest conditions you ever plan to be in and adjust to the chart accordingly. Take measurements with insulation on. The sleeve is measured with the elbow bent, thumb 6" from chin, and measured from the center point of the back of the neck around the elbow to the wrist bone. The inseam is from crotch to ankle bone. The chest is around the fullest part of your chest. The waist is where you normally wear your pants.

LATEX SOCKS SIZING

1	up to men's size 7
2	up to men's sizes 8-13
3	up to men's sizes 13-15

To determine which size will fit the best, we recommend you take a foot measurement (heel to toe) with the thickest sock you will be wearing in your dry suit.

Option socks can be added to any Kokatat dry suit or bib.
